FOUR GUILTY IN OIL FRAUD CASE

Three Others Elect to Stand Trial on Charges

Robert A. Lee Chief Figure in Texas Hearing

Said to Have Posed as Kin of Noted General

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
FORT WORTH (Tex.) May 28.—Four defendants in the "oil fraud" cases which started in the United States District Court here today pleaded guilty when they were arraigned before the court and three pleaded not guilty.

The pleading guilty were Walter Marlin, Philip Goldstein alias Ralph P. Gibson, Nathan H. Sang, alias N. J. Lang, and M. Hirsch, alias M. H. Hirsch. The three defendants pleading not guilty were H. H. Schwarz, Charles Sherwin and "Gen." Robert A. Lee. All of the defendants were charged with conspiring with the General Lee of the Ku Klux Klan to defraud the oil industry.

The trial of Sherwin, Schwarz and Lee then commenced and selection of a jury to try the case was begun.

ASKED ABOUT KLAN
Hardly had examination of the veniremen been turned over to the defense when the Ku Klux Klan was injected into the case. The first question asked by W. P. McLean, Jr., defense counsel, was "are you a member of the Ku Klux Klan?" It was directed at J. L. McDonald, who answered in the negative. Mr. McLean went down the list of twenty-eight veniremen, asking each the one question regarding membership in the Ku Klux Klan. Several veniremen answered in the affirmative.

The jury was drawn shortly before court adjourned for the day. None of those who said they were members of the Ku Klux Klan was drawn on the jury.

The interest in the case today settled about the presence of G. T. Lee, nephew of the General Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate army, who is here as the government's star witness.

Mr. Lee faced in the courtroom the defendant, "Gen." Robert A. Lee, who the government alleges is the identical man who has been posing as a descendant of the famous General Lee. The two gray-haired men presented a pathetic scene as they sat facing each other during the proceedings, the one who is to question for the government the alleged lineage of the other. The world loves a scandal and the case has become a sensation.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED
The indictment as read by Judge Hedges set forth that Sherwin, Schwarz and Lee had conspired to defraud and had used the United States mails in their scheme. It set forth the allegations that Sherwin and Schwarz sent out literature touting "Gen. Lee" and that Lee gave his life to his country. Gen. Robert A. Lee was given a life to the oil business and to humanity.

stock as a Presidential candidate is bound to slump among the wets without rising appreciably among the dries who distrust him as a wet at heart. He would be charged by the wets with infidelity to his campaign promise to abstain from office.

Valentine was trapped by delicate electrical appliances which were so delicately concealed that they did not attract the attention of the wets. The last scene had passed that something was being recorded which would expose him. Dictaphones, placed around him, and two stenographers furnished a record of what went on in the scene room that was damning proof to convince them that a veto would be averted.

It is evident that Tammany wants the Mullin-Gage Enforcement Act repealed. The Tammany chiefs are urging the Governor to sign the repeal bill, warning him of committing political suicide by vetoing. Smith is the idol of New York Democracy to such an extent that he has dictated successfully to Boss Murphy, as at the State convention last year, but if the Governor fails his wet friends now he is likely to find himself in the discard as a dictator.

TWO METALLIC HORNS
In front of Valentine were two long, thin, metallic horns, about five inches wide at the mouth. They were upright at the beginning of the scene and one of them could be distinguished by a band of luminous paint about it. That paint was the cause of many optical illusions.

The horns were produced by prayer and hymns. Then a weird, shrill voice, saying:

"Here I am, the hair rise on one's head."

At the second scene that the psychic lights which have excited the interest of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and other observers, began to appear. The psychic lights at the scene he attended in England with Sir Arthur, he said he never saw such large lights as were produced by the horns. Two of the lights were about as big as an orange. Whatever they were, they were startling when they appeared in front of one's nose.

TEST IS ARRANGED
The suspicion that Valentine and Werrell had a good deal to do with the phenomena began to be confirmed at the second scene. Austin C. Lascar, managing editor of the Scientific American, had provided the means of testing the medium's claims. He placed small luminous buttons on the walls between books so that they were visible in the darkness. The buttons were placed directly opposite them. Any opaque body coming between these lights and the observer would obscure the light.

The medium was somewhat upset when the lights were first turned off and he saw one of the buttons in the wall in front of him. It had apparently been improperly concealed. He asked somewhat nervously that it be covered up.

At another time he located a light between the books which could not have been seen by him unless he had been in the room. Under the rug beneath the chair had been placed strips of wood fastened together with canvas, on which were copied the words of the medium's claim.

BLAMES NEWSPAPERS
"The newspapers helped convict me. I'm trusting that when I have had a chance to make myself plain and have explained my flight and the circumstances attending it that they will help me gain my freedom. All that I really care to say is that I am innocent of the murder of Albert Meadows."

Thus spoke Mrs. Clara Phillips of Los Angeles, convicted hamster murderer, who fled from the Pacific Coast last winter, along with Jesse Carson, after her arrest in Tegucigalpa.

A few weeks ago she will arrive on the Honduran steamship Copan, of the Cuyamel Fruit Line, which was late to arrive from Tegucigalpa, on the river towards New Orleans.

Mrs. Phillips and Carson had departed from New Orleans on January 19 for Mexico, but left there because Carson got into trouble.

Mrs. Phillips was closely guarded all the way from Puerto Cortes to the Gulf of Mexico. At times she was locked in her stateroom for fear that she might harm herself.

But the woman who said that she killed Mrs. Meadows over her husband's infidelity, and who was her confinement in a Spanish Honduras prison.

STARTS HERE TODAY
Mrs. Phillips will be taken to Los Angeles Tuesday aboard a Southern Pacific train, leaving here noon.

The flight over her extradition from Honduras, which was affected in spite of a decree from the Honduran Supreme Court that she be set free, is said in Latin-American circles here to have resulted in a resurrection of political animosities in the Central American republic.

On one side battling for the interests of Honduras are the Honduran Minister to Los Angeles, George P. Shaw, American consul here, and the Honduran Minister to Tegucigalpa, Franklin Morales.

On the other side was a group of influential Hondurans opposed to extradition, including the Honduran Minister to Tegucigalpa, and it is understood the incident has been seized as a weapon against the regime now in power.

Honduras has been reported to have felt the woman was being persecuted.

The decision quoted a letter from Farrar's counsel in which it was admitted that investigation of the case had shown that the charges were not true and that it was desired to abandon them.

Justice Lehman said in his decision:

Pioneer at Trade Works So Fast Customer Thought He Was Dead and Dumb

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, May 28.—The world's most dexterous barber has just retired after working thirty-seven years in the same shop in St. Pancras. There surely never has been another barber in the world quite like William Jones. Once he shaved no fewer than seventy-eight men in an hour and on numerous occasions he has shaved people for three hours, hands running, at the rate of one every minute. A customer of his who had been shaved by Jones daily for three months entered the shop one morning to apologize. "I always thought," said the patron, "that you were deaf and dumb."

Sinn Fein Agitator Tells "Army" to Dump Weapons and Halt Fighting

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
DUBLIN, May 28.—Captured documents made public today by the Free State government show that Eamon De Valera and his chief of staff, Frank Aiken, have definitely ordered a cessation of active hostilities by the Republicans, admitting that the "republic can no longer be defended successfully by your arms."
There will be no formal surrender of arms, but the order of Aiken that they shall be dumped is almost the equivalent, for arms dumps are easily discovered by the Free State patrols. It is believed the Republicans now are likely to concentrate their efforts upon the election campaign.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The body of Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri, who died today at the home of his wife, Mrs. James A. Webb, after an illness of a year, will be sent to his birthplace in Brownsville, Tenn., tomorrow.
As chief counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1914, Folk conducted the six months' investigation of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad here which resulted in sensational disclosures.

McNutt Reviews Deal Tourney

LONG WALLOP UNIMPORTANT

Wethered's Terrific Drive Did Not Score

Attention to Putting More to the Point

Winner Holds Tee Shots in British Match

BY PATTERSON McNUTT

(BY MAIL)

DEAL (England) May 13.—The exponents of the slogan of sock in golf have a great lesson to learn from Roger Wethered's victory in the British amateur championship. Championships have been predicted for Wethered for four years, the prediction being based chiefly on his tremendous power of the tee and through the fairways. But when Roger did finally collect his first national trophy it was his approaching and putting that won for him.

GALLERY AMAZED

A considerable proportion of the gallery that followed the final match between Wethered and Bob Harris were amazed when they discovered that Harris was not only keeping up with Wethered on most of the drives but that he was on occasions getting even greater distance, the assumption was that Harris had overnight developed into one of the most terrific hitters in the game. The real explanation was that Wethered was sacrificing length for accuracy and profiting by that wise strategy. Flattery probably held Wethered back until this year. When he first became known as a serious factor in national and international competition the spectacular part of Roger's game was the great distance he could achieve with wooden and heavy iron clubs. There is no sweeter feeling in the world to the average golfer than the sensation inspired by the sight of a searing wallop, but the wallop does not win championships and even the mighty Wethered was finally forced to realize that the ability to sink a six-foot putt was as necessary to a champion's game as the strength to send the ballily 200 yards off the tee.

An analysis of the final round shows that Wethered took only five-two putts on the thirty holes played. Walter Travis never did much better than that. Again on his short pitches from just off the green Wethered was as coolly efficient as a Cuisinier or a Bobby Jones at his best.

BENGALS ARE EASY FOR SEALS

San Francisco Trounces Vernon; Ellison, Agnew Bat Out Homers

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—The Seals showed Admiral Halsead, Capt. Landenberger and about 200 young sailors from Deal Island how a high class ball machine looks when it is hitting on all cylinders. The Seals used the Vernon Tigers to demonstrate on and beat them 7-2.

Bert Ellison started the Seals off by busting a home run to open the second inning. Sam Agnew caught the fever and cracked another homer in the fourth, sending Rhyno in ahead of him. Ellison drove Kelly home in the third and Hal Rhyno got the same kind of a hit in the fifth that Dallas Looker got in the first half of that inning and two more runs scored.

After that nothing much mattered. Capt. Jim was home of the Tigers and made them roll over and play dead at his command. The Seals stole bases at will. Joe Kelly and Rhyno stole bases and a double steal in the fourth and Joe beat Murphy's throw to third easily. Mulligan and Compton pulled a double steal in the eighth and again Murphy's throw to third was late.

For four years the Vernon Tigers have been tough picking for the Seals, but one who saw the two teams today, for the first time, would find that hard to believe. The score:

VERNON	SEALS
Runs.....	10
Hits.....	12
Errors.....	2

ABANDONED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

LONDON, May 28.—Lord Astor's boy celt Lighthand, winner of the Craven stakes at Newmarket last month and a promising candidate for the derby next week, pulled up lame after a workout today and has been scratched from the Epsom classic.

It has been a bit difficult to analyze the actual fielding ability of Valla. He is certainly a better hitter, and displays greater confidence in all departments. But his fly chasing is a bit puzzling. He catches long drives, some of them within inches of the left center field fence which no other center fielder in the league would have touched. However, the depth at which he plays the position may have had something to do with this although his speed and eye were big factors.

I cannot recall ever having seen a centerfielder play quite so deep, particularly as Valla did in the first two games here. He plays it as deep as Travis Speaker plays it shallow. One wonders if it is difficult for him to turn his back on a long smash and judge.

Or do his speed and ability to come in approximate the speed of the league would not go back on a ball? He made a wonderful shortstop catch on a short fly by Deal, but came dangerously close to dropping himself all over. If he has the speed coming in to justify the depth at which he plays, he deploys himself so much the better. Real place hitters would figure to bother him, but such hitters are largely extinct except such as place them over the fence. However, the greatest centerfielder of the generation plays the shallowest position. Can Valla improve on that system. Viewed in the large, Seals are best-looking team seen here.

Opinion will be divided as to which is the greater. Young with his twenty-one years in the majors or Joe from Man's McGinnity, pitching for Dubuque in the Mississippi Valley League, defeating Marshalltown, 1 to 0, at the age of 20.

What do you think? It was fitting that in games between these two cities both are historic baseball towns, and rich in lore of the diamond. Comiskey played ball in Dubuque, and Anson in Marshalltown.

Chicago was the scene of their larger and later achievements. This reminds us that James M. Sullivan was a recent caller on Oscar Ricehow, Sullivan claims he is the man who first drilled Comiskey in playing a deep first base, both were playing with the St. Louis Union at that time.

But imagine pitching a four-hit game when two years beyond the half-century mark! Grand old ironhead.

Gauge Ally (Capt) Putnam, general manager of the San Francisco club, says his outfit is opposed to the draft. We have yet to meet anybody who is in favor of the old-fashioned draft. That is not a factor in the present disagreement. Putnam gives his reasons for the stand against something nobody has asked or is likely to. He says while the draft in force his club would be compelled to sell three players this season, and that the home folks wouldn't stand for it. George spoke his piece well, but it strikes one as lacking logic. With no exception in effect, San Francisco sold two players last year, three the year before, and the dispatch did not mention any uprising among the fans. Perhaps he was just speeding up.

Every Coast League team has now been seen in action by the citizens of Los Angeles. A majority of them were not at their best, while some possibly were playing over their heads.

San Francisco, latest to call, closing the second month of the season at Washington Park; probably was approaching top form, and for this reason its strength should be judged with some accuracy. The club impresses one as almost as strong as the one with which the Seals finished the 1922 season, and better than the one with which they started.

Willie Kamm without question is the bigger loss, so far as the Seals are concerned. Jimmie O'Connell's snickers very snarly. His batting percentage is about the same, he strikes one as faster and in some respects a better fielder. Tim Hendry also is losing batting power which was lacking in right at the get-away last season.

But the passing of Kamm weakened two positions. It deprived the club of the best young third sacker which baseball has seen in recent years, and hampered short by enlarging the responsibilities of the latter position.

One needs to see Hal Rhyno in only a few games to realize to what extent he is handicapped by the absence of Kamm. Don't get us wrong. This is no reflection on Eddie Mulligan, who is a fine third-sacker, well above the average. And Rhyno is a mighty good ball player. He has done well by getting balls to his right which were so deep that he did not attempt a throw.

He did not even need to go after last year. Kamm took them and turned them into putouts as first base. Willie carpeted more territory with his sliding than any third sacker outside the league.

In short, San Francisco does not strike one as being as strong at either third sacker or putout as it is. That is as strong as it is. Finished, for at the beginning of 1922, Rhyno was little more than a rookie in this kind of company.

Pitching is much more powerful than that with which the Seals launched last season, but the same as that with which it finished.

It has been a bit difficult to analyze the actual fielding ability of Valla. He is certainly a better hitter, and displays greater confidence in all departments. But his fly chasing is a bit puzzling. He catches long drives, some of them within inches of the left center field fence which no other center fielder in the league would have touched. Does Gum-Dipping Improve Cord Tires?

Certainly! Because it lengthens the life of the inner tire structure. That is why Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are practically proof against blowouts.

The process of immersing the cords in a fluid of fine rubber insulates each individual thread—reduces friction and heat to a marked degree—makes a more active, more responsive, easier riding tire—and ends permanently a long list of tire troubles.

The satisfaction of greater mileage that accompanies each purchase of Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords is amply demonstrated by the tremendous recent increase in sales.

In the past six months the public has shown its appreciation of these quality tires—with a demand 194% above that of the same period last year.

Combined with double gum-dipping are other special processes—air-bag cure—rubber blending and tempering—having definite and marked results in mileage.

Equip all four wheels of your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords and Firestone Steam-Welded Tubes. Learn the meaning of MILEAGE as developed by Firestone.

smoke ten
cigars every day.

This is common with most men who smoke a great many cigars—I do. At the cigars I smoke be rich in all-flavored and yet mild. They are cigars that I can smoke steadily all day without discomfort, that I can even smoke immediately before a meal without my appetite, and that I can smoke at any time and year after year in constant pleasure.

Palina is the only cigar I know that meets these requirements. I spent several days determining the exact combination of tobacco and other imported ingredients that produced my ideal cigar. I have an organization whose one aim is to safeguard the quality of Palina and to deliver it to the smoker in the best possible condition.

Many complimentary remarks have been made about Palina. But there is no better quality than the fact that Palina is the largest selling high-grade cigar in the United States.

Palina is the only cigar I know that meets these requirements. I spent several days determining the exact combination of tobacco and other imported ingredients that produced my ideal cigar. I have an organization whose one aim is to safeguard the quality of Palina and to deliver it to the smoker in the best possible condition.

TEETH OF SLAIN
STUDENT FOUNDPier Tomb is Searched With Grisly ResultsDental Work Tallies With Dead Youth's"Mystery Witness" Says He is Threatened

CHICAGO, May 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—A complete identification of the Leighton Mount skeleton was established today by the discovery of twelve teeth, several of them showing recorded dental work, in the freshman's pier tomb in Evanston.

One of the teeth bore a gold-banded porcelain crown. When a description of the crown was telephoned to him, Dr. Francis H. Ivey, Mount's dentist, said he was certain the skeleton has been identified beyond question.

"When the skull was found eighteen teeth were missing," Dr. Ivey said. "Among the eighteen were several on which I had worked. Though the remaining teeth corresponded with my records, I could not be sure. But if a gold-banded porcelain crown has been found, I'm satisfied that it is Leighton Mount's skeleton. There can be no doubt of it."

Dr. Ivey has a record of all dental work done for young Mount. George E. Gorman, assistant State's Attorney in charge of the search through the breakwater, said he would carry all the discovered teeth to the dentist for careful inspection. Several carry fillings of which the dentist is believed to have a record.

WORKERS EXPLORE CAVE
Laborers working like miners recovered the lost teeth from the sandy bottom of the diamond pier. They set to work at daybreak in a cavity they had dug Saturday after the decking had been torn from the pier and the rocks of the substructure had been removed.

Standing knee deep in water they dug the sand from the bottom with the utmost care, screening each shovelful. By noon they had recovered eleven teeth, a piece of bone, a small pearl button and a fragment of cloth. An hour later they found a twelfth tooth.

The bit of bone is part of the skeleton's right foot which was missing, it is believed. Other pieces of bone from the foot were found Saturday. The foot was the scrap of cloth appear to have come from light underwear, according to Mr. Gorman.

Three possible clues are being preserved. One is a scrap of newspaper dated in March of this year. The others are lumps of blue clay foreign to the lake shore. These things found Saturday have aroused a suspicion that the body of the long-lost Freshman may have been buried elsewhere at first and removed to the pier this spring.

FITCH MAKES CHARGE
Revival of the grand jury investigation of Mount's death was threatened today because of a letter in which Roscoe C. Fitch, "mystery witness" in the case, charged that a student vigilante committee has been organized at Northwestern to drive him from the campus.

Writing from Ludington, Mich., where his father is County Attorney, young Fitch appealed to the State's Attorney here for protection. Students are "laying for him," he said, and the university has canceled his registration in an important course.

Fitch named his persecutors. All are prominent undergraduates. The State's Attorney's office promised to investigate the charges. Notice that his registration in a Latin course had been canceled was sent to Fitch last week.

Fred L. Kerr, registrar at the university, explained today. "Fitch had missed more than the permitted number of classes," Mr. Kerr said. "The notice was automatic. We send it to every student who misses too many classes, no matter what the reason for the absence. It is not final; it merely calls for an explanation. Fitch has not, so far as we know, been in to explain that his absence was excusable."

CUTTERS ORDERED TO SEIZE LIQUOR SHIP

STEAMER MORAIVE THOUGHT TO BE CONNECTED WITH SMUGGLING RING

NORFOLK (Va.), May 28.—Orders to seize the steamship Moraive if she comes within the three-mile limit have been issued to coast guard cutters now patrolling the Virginia capes against rum runners. Officials declared today they were in receipt of information that the vessel is connected with a liquor-smuggling syndicate.

Prohibition agents and coast guard officials freely expressed the opinion that from 8000 to 10,000 cases of liquor were landed by the steamer before its departure Friday night.

They also said they believed the departure of the ship was due to the exhaustion of their cargoes, and that they had gone to the Bahamas for a new supply.

NEW BERLIN
ENVOYS GO
TO LONDONThree Dispatched to Sound
Baldwin on Reparations;
No New Offer

BERLIN, May 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—It became known today that Germany has sent three special envoys to London to sound out the Baldwin government on the reparations question. Until they return at the end of the week the German note to the Allies will not be drafted. It seems certain, however, that under no circumstances will the present Cabinet offer more than 30,000,000,000 gold marks ($7,140,000,000).

It is believed firmly here that the new German reparations proposals will be rejected by France and Belgium, because the note will contain no new offer, but will merely specify what guarantees Germany is willing to offer.

Most German politicians realize that eventually the reparations offer will have to be raised to 48,000,000,000 gold marks ($12,520,000,000) or more. This was appreciated by the Socialists long before the last note was sent. Cuno prefers the Chancellor's palace in Wilhelmstrasse to the offices of the Hamburg-American line, but he is struggling hard to retain his present position.

It has become known that the First Minister, Herr Brüning, recently took part in a Cabinet meeting in Berlin, in which he came out against Cuno, but in because he was offering too little reparations money, but too much.

"Killing," said the Munich newspapers in semi-official report, "succeeded in convincing the Cabinet that Germany could not pay a cent more than 30,000,000,000 gold marks, which amount should be Germany's final offer."

HARRY FISHER,
Noted Eastern
Comedian, Dies

NEW YORK, May 28.—Harry E. Fisher, who for many years was a member of the vaudeville team of Fisher and Carroll, died at his home in Brooklyn today, after an illness lasting several weeks. He was 55 years of age.

Fisher died with a smile on his face. His physician was exploring the necessity for cutting a hole in the comedian's pajama sleeve in order to inject a hypodermic.

"Never mind, doc," said Fisher, "they're only 95 cents a syringe. He expired as he spoke the last word.

Fisher was born in Bristol, Eng., and came to this country when he was 20 years of age. One of his first appearances on Broadway was as a comedian in Lew Fields' production of "It Happened in New York." Later he was with Fields' show presenting "The Midnight Sons" with George Monroe as a feature of the cast.

He did his last work as comedian in "O, Lady, Lady," at the Princess Theater in Manhattan. He retired from the stage three years ago.

JUDGE IS CITED IN MILLIONAIRE ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—The State Supreme Court today issued an order directing Superior Judge Frank H. Dunne of this city to appear before that tribunal next Monday and show cause why he should not be removed from office. The order was issued on motion of higher court should not review all proceedings relating to the $1,000,000 estate of Mrs. Julie Grinbaum.

The order was issued on motion of John Francis Neelan and Philip S. Ehrlich, attorneys for Mrs. Grinbaum, who are seeking to have their client legally restored to mental capacity and management of her estate.

The method used to unite the different parts of the implements suggest handwork like that of the Egyptians.

Senior Leonardis has presented his find to the National Museum.

PHOENIX, May 28.—Arizona will have no official representation at the approaching Santa Barbara sessions of the League of the Southwest. Gov. Hunt's attention today was called by a Times' representative to the telegraphed reports that the Governors of Utah and Nevada had joined with the governor of Colorado in refusal to attend or send delegates to Santa Barbara.

"You may add me to the list," Gov. Hunt stated. "I have refused to have anything to do with it from the very start. There even came a suggestion that I serve as chairman, but I have ignored it, all the way through, and have tried to make it clear that I would not attend."

The Governor did not state reasons for his attitude, but has expressed interest concerning any mixing of outside influences in what he considers Arizona's own problem over the disposition of the River and power of the Colorado River.

The Governor today received four more telegrams from high officials of the Mexican republic asking clemency in the case of Manuel Martinez, convicted of murder. The habeas corpus action by which a county court stayed execution will be heard tomorrow morning on Certiorari before the Arizona Supreme Court.

Gov. Hunt today honored a requisition from Pennsylvania for the arrest of Andrew L. Hepler, wanted in that State on charges of embezzlement of about $400,000. Hepler and wife will leave tomorrow in charge of a Pennsylvania sheriff.

Lieut.-Col. Ellis, who is named on the passport as Earl S. Ellis, occupation merchant, arrived at Palao on April 14 en route to Manila, Dutch Territory, representing the U. S. Navy.

The Japanese do not suspect that the object of Lieut.-Col. Ellis's visit was other than represented, although the Navy Department officials do not conceal their surprise that he was on the active list of the Navy while traveling commercially.

SLASHED IN CHEEK,
STILL GUARDS CASH

NEW YORK, May 28.—Two "customers" in a shoe store held up James Kaplan, clerk, here today, pushed him down the cellar and then "stuck up" Joseph Stimmel, assistant manager. At the time he was a regular customer, entered, and he was rooted downstairs to join Kaplan.

Stimmel refused to open the safe. One of the thieves drew a knife from a sheath and deliberately and deeply slashed the manager's cheek. But Stimmel, crying out with pain, refused again. Cursing him, the bandits took him into the cellar to join the other victims.

Then the thieves suddenly discovered the safe was unlocked. When the police arrived $2500 in cash was missing from it.

Se le Reducen los Alimentos a una Divorciada

Roy Albert Myers convenció ayer a un testigo ante el Juzgado Superior para que diera testimonio de que la esposa del referido Myers había formado un complot para matar a su marido. Este hizo tal denuncia en apoyo de su petición de que se redujeran los $10 de alimentos temporales que le está pasando a la Sra. Cora Myers.

El Juzgado decretó la reducción de dicha suma a la de $7 semanales, luego que hubo oído la declaración de Juan James, piloto de taxi, quien asegura que la Sra. Myers le pagó $100 para que le asegurara el plan de asesinato de matar a su marido.

Tiene pendiente la Sra. Myers un juicio de divorcio, contra el que su marido presentó una queja, por la que acusa a Sra. Myers de haber conspirado con otro individuo para que le fuera hecha la Sra. Myers operación en su casa. Isadora Morris, abogado de Myers, dijo ayer al juez que si la Sra. Myers podía disponer de $100 para sobornar a un cómplice, no le hacían falta alimentos.

Jana fue llamado a declarar y dijo que la Sra. Myers se había acercado a él para proponerle el plan y le había hecho varios enteros de dinero, dándole finalmente el saldo de $150 la noche en que iba a practicar el atentado. Niega la Sra. Myers de verdad de este testimonio, y dice que James había penetrado en su casa por la fuerza la noche en cuestión, y había tomado los $150 de un cajón de la mesa de la biblioteca. Agrega en su escrito que este incidente era parte del plan de asesinato de matar a su marido.

SEWER DRAFT IS ORDERED DRAWN

Proposed Glendale Contract Elicits Argument

Estimate Improvement Cost at $800,000

Council Would Make Suburb Pay Its Share

City Attorney Stephens was instructed yesterday by the City Council to prepare the draft of a contract to be executed by the city of Glendale regarding the proposed connection of the Glendale sewer with the north outfall sewer of Los Angeles.

After details of the proposal had been cleared away amid arguments among Councilmen Mushet, Mallard, Criswell, Copway and Allan, Mr. Mushet offered the following motion, which was adopted: "That the City Attorney be instructed to prepare a draft of a contract to be executed by the city of Glendale and the city of Los Angeles for the construction by the city of Glendale of an interceptor sewer, it being the sense of the Council that the Council approve of the policy, the City Attorney to work out legal phases of the contract and submit same to the Council for its consideration."

POLITICAL SCHEME SEEN

During the discussion of the proposed payment of interest and for a sinking fund on the bonds, Councilman Mallard urged that the city of Glendale be made to take the same burden on all sewer bonds past and future, that the taxpayers of Los Angeles be obliged to shoulder Mr. Mallard further warned that agitation over this matter was part of a political scheme to railroad the proposition through before election, and further warned that he did not think it possible to make a legal contract that would be binding with Glendale as a separate municipality.

President Criswell of the Council agreed with Mr. Mallard on many points and declared that he wanted to safeguard Los Angeles taxpayers against having to pay part of Glendale's share of tax for interest and sinking fund.

However, insofar as the present offer of Glendale to pay for the building of this connecting sewer is concerned, the Council took the stand that many details not now included would have to be incorporated in a contract.

GLENDALÉ MAKES APPEAL

M. P. Jones and Charles Toll, residents of Glendale, appealed to Los Angeles before the Council for the joint co-operation of the two cities in the matter of sewer disposal. City Engineer John A. Griffin stated that from present estimates the proposed cost of the sewer would be $800,000.

A petition from the Board of Public Works asking for two weeks more to make its report was read.

VILLAIN TO HAVE INNING IN PICTURES

Nickolai de Ruiz Will Head All-Star Cast in Jaccard Production

Enter the bad man hero!

Of course it's been done a few times in pictures, but the bold villain never has really had his day. And in this case the character is hardly a villain. He merely has been one many times before, all fully and faithfully recorded on the screen.

Nickolai de Ruiz, seen a hundred times as a "hero" of film plays, is to be featured at the head of an all-star cast in a Jacques Jaccard production, "Fools and Riches," to be produced by W. C. Graves, Jr., with several similar undertakings that are possibilities of the future.

The story, originally called "The Curse," was written by Mr. Graves and Mr. Jaccard, and tells the story of a wealthy man, nevertheless a brute in many characteristics, who thinks he owns the earth. It is rich in the "brute psychology" that has been a feature of the roles Mr. de Ruiz has played in such pictures as "Bavu," "Fools and Riches," "Another's Shoes," "East is West" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

At least twenty Universal pictures have had as the villain feature the "characterizations of Nick de Ruiz. After working there more or less regularly for a long period, the popular player conceived the unique idea of getting more of Universal City's money by opening a restaurant there. He bought a lot facing the studio and built the Spanish Grotto. Later Jacques Jaccard and Mr. Graves built a small and thoroughly modern studio next to the restaurant, and now it is but a half-minute's walk from studio to home or eating place for Nick.

Bandit's Wife Gives Bail in Robbery Case

Arraigned before Justice Follette on a charge of receiving stolen property, Jane Blair, wife of Granville Blair, confessed bandit, was held yesterday under $1000 bail. Her hearing was set for June 18. The woman furnished bail.

At first Justice Follette set Mrs. Blair's bail at $2000, but her attorney intervened, declaring that she was entirely innocent of wrongdoing and had played an entirely unwitting part in the robbery for which her husband is being held.

The court then cut her bail in half. She was arrested shortly after the hold-up and robbery last week of the Sun Drug Company cashier, in which the bandits obtained approximately $35,000 in cash and checks. Presumably all of the stolen money has been recovered.

At the time of her arrest she was found to be in possession of $2300, which is believed to be part of the money obtained by the bandits in the hold-up.

BOY SCOUTS BOOST LIBRARY

Will Make House-to-House Canvass Urging Votes For Proposition No. 2 on June 5

Three thousand Boy Scouts are preparing to paper Los Angeles with dogears, urging the people to protect their $2,000,000 property on Library Terrace (old Normal Hill) by voting "yes" on Proposition No. 2 on June 5.

George Truman said, "I'll tell 'em the library needs a clean front yard and a great entrance 'out where the West begins.'"

The Scouts will make a house-to-house canvass and will be stationed at all big downtown centers.

E. B. De Groat, scout executive, stated, "The Boy Scouts are pledged to do a good turn daily. This work for the library they call a civic good turn. We are eager to have the boys practice active citizenship. The motto of the Boy Scouts is 'Be Prepared,' not in a military sense, but with a social and civic meaning. In this case the Boy Scouts were prepared, organized and willing."

City Librarian Perry, speaking before the elementary teachers of Los Angeles at Trinity Auditorium said yesterday, "At the coming election Los Angeles will either assure or imperil her achievement of a public library. Every man, woman and child shares in the community's investment in the Public Library Building. It is an investment not only in moth-eaten books and old maps, but in confidence and high expectations. Safeguard it and secure it, it will return interest by overflowing measure in a building that shall express with dignity and beauty the ideals and aspirations of a city, great not only in buildings and automobiles, but in industries developing mind and soul. MRS. HAWKINS SUES MATE

Wife of Asserted "Love Nest" Occupant Asks Separate Maintenance; "Other Woman" Named

The asserted domestic difficulties of Francis J. Hawkins, well-known New York and Los Angeles motion-picture distributor and vice-president of the Producers' Security Corporation of New York, revealed yesterday in a Long Beach apartment Saturday night, received further airing yesterday with the filing by Mrs. Dorothy M. Hawkins of a suit for separate maintenance.

The arrest of Hawkins and the woman, who gave her name as Edna M. Meagles, but who is mentioned by Mrs. Hawkins as Jane Nagle Buck, was made on complaint of Mrs. Hawkins.

BAIL PROVIDED

Both provided $500 bail at the hearing yesterday before Police Judge Carl V. Hawkins on a charge of violation of a city ordinance pertaining to moral conduct. They were represented by Attorney Lyle W. Rucker of Los Angeles, who obtained a continuance until June 22.

According to the complaint filed by Mrs. Hawkins, her husband persisted in his living with Miss Buck both in New York and Los Angeles. She charged that her husband lived with the woman two years in New York, but promised to give her up, saying that his infatuation had died out.

In 1918 Mrs. Hawkins said her husband told her he was through with the woman and asked his wife to come back to him. She said at that time she was living in Los Angeles and that she borrowed $300 to make the trip to New York. She said she forgave her husband and believed he was sincere in his promise.

CAME TO LOS ANGELES

Then they came to Los Angeles, she said, and later separated. The final separation occurred in July, 1929, according to the complaint.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Hawkins discovered that her husband and the Buck woman were living together in an apartment in Long Beach, she said.

Mrs. Hawkins seeks $300 a month for support of herself and her two children.

Mrs. Hawkins is represented by Attorney Dunham and Thompson of Los Angeles. The couple were married in California in 1911, the complaint states.

Datig Is Kept Busy Working Out New Film

The past two or three days have been busy ones for Fred Datig, casting director at Universal City, and several directors and others concerned. Casting on "The Acquittal," Rita Weiman's stage play, which will be a Universal-June all-star feature, is occupying a good deal of the time of Mr. Datig and Clarence L. Brown, the director of the coming production.

Norman Kerry, who shares honors with Mary Philbin in the romantic leading roles of the new spectacle, "Merry-Go-Round," recently completed and previewed, and who has practically completed the portrayal of Capt. Phoebus in the spectacular filming of Hugo's "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," will play the sympathetic leading male role of "The Acquittal." There is a good deal of romantic interest in the part, and the casting of Mr. Kerry, in view of similar past performances, is interesting.

Richard Travers, highly esteemed as a player of roles of polished villainy, will handle the "heavy" characterization of the Weiman piece.

Twenty "candidates" so far have been considered for the leading feminine role.

Besides all this, casting for twenty other companies and engaging players like Otto Harlan and Frank Currier for Herbert Rawlinson's vehicle, "The Victor," keep casting director and many others busy.

Governor Is for State Narcotic Education Week

Capt. Richmond F. Hobson, head of the Narcotic Education Association, said he received yesterday a telegram from Gov. Richardson, in answer to one he sent asking that State educational authorities be allowed to participate in Narcotic Education Week. The message read in part:

"I will be glad to permit State agents to participate in your conference for a very valuable object."

DR. REYNOLDS GIVES ANSWER

Mental Astigmatism Charged to Conan Doyle

Letter Analyzes Attitude on Spirit Photography

Hope Case Receives Further Consideration

Los Angeles, May 28.

Sir: What a self-revelation of mental astigmatism is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's reply to my letter in The Times of Sunday, last. Sir Arthur accuses me of "inaccuracies and wild statements," but the alleged inaccuracies must have been given to him by one of his familiar spirits, for they were not in my letter. Specifically, I did not state that Dr. Cushman was under the surveillance of Mr. Hope's agents in Philadelphia, and Sir Arthur knows this to be true. However, such surveillance was unnecessary as I have the whole pitiable story in Dr. Alorton Cushman's own words as published in the Journal of the American Society for Psychical Research, March, 1933, pages 122-127.

He had been dabbling in spiritism before he went to England for the photograph; he was approached by a person who showed him one of Mr. Hope's "spirit photographs" before he left America, and this incident led him to seek Mr. Hope.

COURSE IN ENGLAND

On his arrival in England he did not go direct to Mr. Hope and Mrs. Deane, who were both operating at the high-sounding "College of Psychic Science" in Holland Park, for, in spite of Sir Arthur's "wild statements," these two persons were taking pictures under the same roof at this time.

Dr. Cushman went first to the office of the Journal, Light, and introduced himself by name to Mr. Engholm, and divulged his intentions and desires. Is this seeking Mr. Hope, and I repeat his associate, Mrs. Deane, incongruous? Added to this Dr. Cushman himself admits that the nose in the "spirit" photo is longer than that of his daughter, and as I compared the picture with that taken during life, I can discern no more resemblance than could be made by dozens of movie actresses of the "type" dolled up to fit the antemortem picture. Hence anyone (almost) can see that the fraud is not only possible, but disgustingly easy.

Does Sir Arthur suggest that this innocent little carpenter, Mr. Hope, and the still more innocent little charwoman, Mrs. Deane, only received $12 per week from their activities at the imposing "College of Psychic Science?"

And now for question No. 2. I again ask Sir Arthur, "Was the essence of Mr. Browne put on record before the shark was caught? I am not interested in what Father Browne wrote after the shark was caught. That is what I mean, when I say 'put on record,' I do not mean mere hearsay."

As for my mentioning the town of Philadelphia, instead of Washington, where I well know Dr. Cushman resides, it is immaterial to the argument if I had said Los Angeles, but it evidently led Sir Arthur to believe that I had not the records of the Cushman case and in that he is disappointed, for I have them before me as I write and also the pictures.

In regard to Mr. Harry Price, his indictment was published, as I have said, in the official Journal of the American Society for Psychical Research, and no refutations of his conclusions have since been published in this standard journal, neither has Mr. Price retracted, nor does he publicly, nor has Mr. Hope started an action for libel as far as recorded.

INDICTMENT REPEATED

Moreover, Mr. Price's indictment was repeated in a full-page article in the Sunday edition of a leading Los Angeles paper within the past five weeks—that is fifteen months after the exposure. Sir Arthur's attempts to whitewash Hope do not alter these facts. However, Mr. Price is quite capable of defending himself and I shall make a point of asking him to again publish his investigation for the benefit of the people of Los Angeles.

These letters are not written as an argument against survival of personality, in which for very good reasons I believe, but as a plea for honesty and care in the investigation of this important subject. As for apologies, if I ever find that I have done Sir Arthur or anyone else an injustice, they will follow with far more haste than this letter.

EGAN BACK WITH MANY NEW PLAYS

Offers Prize of $100 for Title of Production Now at His Theater

Frank Egan, local theater man and producer, arrived yesterday from New York with numerous manuscripts which will be vehicles at Egan's Little Theater. Among the new plays brought back by Egan are several by Ann Nichols, whose general manager, Robert Kay, will arrive shortly to confer with Egan relative to the remodeling of the theater.

Announcement was made by Mr. Egan that an option on all the new plays brought back by Egan from New York had been obtained. Among the early productions will be "Just Married," with Henry Duff, and "Uptown Wract," now under the Bijou Theater in New York.

Mr. Egan is pleased with "Morphine," by Oscar Plaf, now playing at Egan's Little Theater, and with the title. He feels the title smacks too much of propaganda and announces a prize of $100 for the title that will prove acceptable. He said he hopes to sign Grace Carlyle for a long-time contract soon.

LAUDS HARBOR BOND PLAN
Getting Ready to Film Great Sea Production

The plan of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for the issuance of $15,000,000 in bonds for harbor improvements, the bond issue to be ratified at the polls in the coming election June 5, has received the approval of John Robert White, former legislator, Chamber of Commerce plan, declared that the harbor is the key-stone of the wall of prosperity which Los Angeles has built for itself and the surrounding country, but that this wall of prosperity must be reinforced as the harbor is in the grip of shipping congestion, a condition which threatens future disaster.

"The only way to remedy this condition," declared Mr. White, "is to vote for those bonds. A large harbor, in keeping with Admiral Eberle's plan, will mean we can handle the shipping of the back country, with its tremendous output of copper, cotton and meats and also handle our own products. 'Water freight is cheap freight. Don't forget that. The Panama Canal was constructed primarily to give this country more direct water connection with the east and we've got to take advantage of that. We've got to have a harbor that will permit the swift unloading and loading of ships; we've got to tap and supply the markets of the world and the way to do it is by the water route.'"

In unloading large quantities of sand and bricks in India, a conveyor belt is found to cost less than the help of natives.

Getting Ready to Film Great Sea Production
With Bernard McConville's screen version of "Cape Cod Folks" now completed and ready for filming, preparations are being gotten under way by Irving G. Thalberg for the making of the old New England classic one of the largest sea spectacles ever attempted in motion pictures. It will be a Louis B. Mayer special and will have a carefully selected cast of all-star talent.

It is understood that the title, "Cape Cod Folks," is to be discarded in favor of "Women Who Wait" as the name of the picture.

The famous Grand Banks off of Newfoundland, with the thousands of fishing craft, will be photographed.

ROSES DECEIVED BY CHLOROFORM

Vines Made to Think They Are Sleeping in Winter

Flowers to Be Produced One Year in Advance

Capital Experiment Used in Better Homes Drive

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, May 28.—By the lavish use of chloroform, a Washington florist employed by Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the Illinois Senator, is busily engaged in a piece of dark villainy.

These innocuous little rambling rose vines are the victims of the plot. The vines are to be chloroformed into the notion that winter has come upon them. While they are sleeping, unsuspecting they will be transplanted to the front yard of the Better Homes demonstration house.

When they recover their faculties again, they will be under the impression that the chloroform was their usual winter sleep and in all innocence they will bear roses this June as if for June of 1924.

DESIGNED BY BARBER The Better Homes house, being built under the shadow of the White House for demonstration week, June 4 to 10, was designed by Donn Barber, well-known architect, who used as a model the home on Long Island which 100 hundred years ago inspired John Howard Payne to the writing of "Home Sweet Home."

The Department of Agriculture, represented on the National Council of Better Homes in America by Secretary Wallace, undertook to transplant vines and shrubs to give the house the appearance of having grown into its setting. When it was pointed out that the original on Long Island had several rambling rose vines which were necessary to complete the picture, the department gardeners replied that they could transplant the vines, but they wouldn't bloom until next year. Mrs. McCormick, a member of the Washington committee, asked if they knew about the chloroform process of "faking winter" in order to get an earlier blooming.

They replied that they knew all about it, but that its cost was too great to make it practical. Thereupon Mrs. McCormick asked that she be appointed a committee of one to foot the bill for the blooming of the ramblers, which was done.

The Washington house will later be moved to another site where it will become the permanent Better Homes exhibit of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, under whose auspices it has been constructed in less than four weeks.

Better Homes week will be observed in hundreds of towns and cities throughout the country. The movement is under direction of a National Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman and Mrs. William Brown Meloney, editor of The Delinquent, is secretary and founder.

After the campaign Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, recently selected as one of America's twelve greatest living women, who has directed the home economic features of the campaign, will sail for Belgium to inaugurate a Better Homes in Belgium campaign for the Belgian government, modeled after the American campaign.

MOUTH ORGANS IN DEMAND (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, May 28.—Harmonies are meeting with greatly increased sales, due to the recent contest. Some dealers' shelves have been cleaned of stocks. The demand for the better grades is remarkably good.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A hearing was held by the State Supreme Court. The official report of the judgment denied the right of a lower court to review a judgment of the Supreme Court, and declared that proceedings in the Superior Court for that purpose are void for want of jurisdiction.

It was stated "A judgment of the Supreme Court imports absolute veracity and must be regarded as free from all error and is conclusive upon the inferior courts and judges thereof."

Issuance of the writ of habeas corpus was declared "wholly unjustifiable, beyond the jurisdiction and power of the judge and without support in law, reason or logic." The record of the proceedings in the Superior Court was quashed with observation that "they have had the wicked effect temporarily to defeat justice, but this is not vested by law with the unrestricted power to rectify the wrong, and we do not hesitate to annul that power."

ATTORNEY NOW JUSTICE Justice Baker now deceased wrote the opinion, which was concurred in by Chief Justice Ross and Justice McAllister, both of whom still are on the Supreme bench. The last added a special opinion that excused, to a degree, the action of the inferior court judge in granting the writ as a matter of general practice at the time. Martin thereafter was executed.

A remarkable feature of the affair is that the attorney for Nicholas Martin is the Superior Court Judge who issued the writ of habeas corpus last Thursday in the case of Manuel Martinez. It is recalled that the state court judge in granting the writ, as a matter of general practice at the time, Martin thereafter was executed.

Louis J. Hart, assistant attorney for Maricopa county and present to attend the execution as a representative of Atty.-Gen. John W. Murphy, advised the prison superintendent that the writ of habeas corpus could not lie. This advice later was sustained by the Attorney-General by telephone, with demand that the execution proceed. But the superintendent expressed preference for the safer plan of obeying the orders of a court and revoked all orders he had given for the execution at dawn.

MEXICO ASKS CLEMENCY Very unusual consideration of the case is being given by the Mexican national government and by the Congress of Mexico. Sonora, which have asked for commutation of the death sentence, Martinez is reported to have been a secret agent of the Mexican government. The State Board of Pardons and Paroles spent several days in consideration of the case and finally decided to let the sentence stand. Martinez was convicted of the murder of Postmaster Pearson and wife at Ruby, Santa Cruz county, on August 28, 1921. He was sentenced to hang, but only a few weeks later he was leader of the marauding Mexican band that raided the settlement near the border.

A couple of times before this the execution of a death warrant was stayed by similar action.

The last was in June, 1921, when Thomas H. The judgment of conviction had been followed by the Superior Court, yet the day before the execution date Judge J. S. The judgment of conviction had been followed by the Superior Court, yet the day before the execution date Judge J. S. Jencks, sitting in place of the Superior Judge of the county, stopped the hanging, on petition of Stephen H. Abbey, attorney for the convicted man.

GOSSIP IN WASHINGTON

Famed Marine Band Nonplused as President Picks Navy Musicians to Accompany Him on Cruise to Alaska

BY THE OBSERVER (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) (Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—An entirely auxiliary feature of the President's trip across the country to Alaska and then back by water is that it will furnish a pleasant outing for a good many persons whose duty it will be to take the Henderson from the Atlantic around to the Pacific where Mr. and Mrs. Harding will board her for the trip up to the northern territory. The lack of the voyage falls mostly to the Navy, of course, and no one can be more pleased than thirty members of the Navy Band who will be put on board ship for the purpose of the Presidential party with music. Incidentally, the choice of the Navy Band has been what may prove to be a never-ending feud with the Marine Band. The musicians of the "Devil-Dogs" have always been taken for granted that they were the Presidential band on any and all occasions. Heretofore they have been too busy to Washington on inauguration day surely must remember that the men in blue have always headed the march down the avenue with the new President. It is reported that the selection of the Navy Band is due to Mrs. Harding who has had a soft spot in her heart for the organization ever since the time early in her husband's administration when it furnished the music for one of her garden parties and at her recent played "The End of a Perfect Day," the favorite tune of the President's wife. Indications that an effort is being made to cater to catholic tastes, in music is seen in the fact that the Navy Band has given the thirty men selected of the sixty-seven that make up the Navy Band should be given the "last" as they are at classical selections.

Washington police are making a great mystery of what they consider the most ingenious refinement in "bootlegging" that has been discovered. Officers charged with the enforcement of the prohibition law in the capital have been thrown off their guard by a veritable smoke screen. When the police discovered the phenomenon say that it would be impossible for a destroyer to throw off a denser cloud of smoke than the fugitive auto of the "Public Affairs" in the first number of "Public Affairs," which is edited under the direction of Samuel Adams, an apparent effort has been made to have represented all political faiths. HOUSTON WILL IMPROVE PORT

Bond Issue of $4,000,000 is Sold to Bank

Excavation Work Contracts Already Let

Extensive Additions Planned by Commission

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) HOUSTON (Tex.), May 28.—Navigation District Commission has sold the entire issue of $4,000,000 bonds, the proceeds to be used in improvements of the port of Houston, to the National Bank of Commerce of this city on a bid of par and accrued interest and a premium of $30,000.

The commission immediately awarded the contract to List & Gifford of Dallas for dry excavation on the site of the six new wharves to be built on the north side of the turning basin, to cost approximately $116,000. The contract calls for dry excavation of about 400,000 cubic yards of earth at a cost of 24 cents per cubic yard. The excavation also will include a site for new railroad to serve the wharves.

The general improvement plans for the port include the construction of about six wharves, one grain elevator and wharf, railway tracks and connections; roadways on port property; water supply and electric system; lease or purchase of wharf sites and right of way, and necessary improvements in connection with existing facilities and facilities for operation of port facilities now constructed or to be provided.

The bonds are to bring a per cent interest, payable semi-annually, April 15 and October 15, and will mature at the rate of $130,000 per year for five years and $134,000 per year for twenty-five years thereafter.

Grave Identity in East Cause of Controversy

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, May 28.—The nearest thing New York has to a Westminster Abbey is Cold Trinity Cemetery at Broadway and Wall street, where a controversy has arisen over the identity of a grave marked "Charlotte Temple" as to whether it is the last resting place of a famous colored woman of that name who founded a university for the education of her race in Kentucky.

"It is not," drily said Sexton W. Boyd today. "Our 'Charlotte Temple' was an English girl who in the pre-revolutionary days eloped from her boarding school to America with a British officer who deserted her before marriage. She died of a broken heart, and her tragic story was published in a book titled with her name, which was a true narrative and not fiction. The grave once had a silver tablet but it was stolen."

Why banks and trust companies invest in bonds

BANKS invest a large proportion of their deposits, and trust companies a generous share of their fiduciary funds, in bonds, for the following excellent reasons.

Bonds have been for centuries the preferred investment of the ultra-conservative—because of their safety, liquidity and better-proof features. The principal is paid when due. The interest is paid promptly. Bonds are readily marketable and they afford a wide diversity of security.

Bonds are thoroughly investigated by investment experts before they are offered to the public.

A bondholder's position is that of a protected creditor. He is amply secured by a lien on property.

This company specializes in high-grade bonds in denominations of $100 and upward, and serves the purpose of valued people as well as those of means.

REDEMPTION OF ARID ACREAGE

Hydroelectric Development Creates New Wealth

More Than Million Acres Under Irrigation

California Corporations Are Active in the Work

BY D. T. BARCOCK,
Resident Partner, Blyth, Witter & Co.

By the transformation of large areas of arid lands into sections rich in agricultural products, the hydroelectric corporations of California have enriched this State by millions of dollars annually and provided employment for thousands of citizens. The growth of the State has been identified closely with the development of hydroelectric power. In many parts of the State is practically dependent upon power from this source, but it is probable that, by supplying electric and dependable power which water is pumped to the surface of arid lands and the soil made to yield bountifully under cultivation, the corporations have benefited the greatest number of persons.

Irrigation is necessary to the successful cultivation of the greater portion of agricultural lands in Southern California, particularly the citrus groves for which this State is famous. In many parts of the State this irrigation has been made possible by the organization of irrigation companies, which by the construction of impounding dams and ditches have brought the waters from higher levels to the ranches and citrus groves.

In the other districts, however, it has been found impossible, either because of natural reasons or prohibitive cost, to construct gravity irrigation systems. It is here that the hydroelectric corporations stepped in, by supplying power for pumping at rates which make it profitable to cultivate the lands, and assisting the ranchmen in every conceivable manner, have added millions of dollars to the value of the annual products of California ranches.

The three great hydro-electric corporations operating in the southern and central parts of California today are furnishing power to irrigate more than 1,000,000 acres of lands as follows:

These figures are as of December 31, 1933, and each of the companies has added considerable area since that time. The transmission lines of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation extend from Mono Lake to the Imperial Valley, traverse an immense area of arid land which is suitable for cultivation. Studies of this land already have been tested and found to have a plentiful supply of water beneath the surface within easy pumping distance. After pumps have been installed this now unproductive land will yield big returns.

In extending their lines to the agricultural lands, thereby gaining additional business and enriching the State, the power companies have taken the lead. It is an axiom in California that "population follows the power lines." On the private power corporations has fallen the burden of pioneering the way. Through their efforts these 1,000,000 acres now are supporting thousands of citizens and adding millions of dollars annually to the wealth of the State and nation.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Taking a Week for a Day Off; Merchandising Activities; Tires, Pineapples and Traction.

BY CHAPIN HALL

The business week opened without much pep. In the speculative field the public appears to be playing a waiting game. New commitments are waiting on month-end reports, while a midweek holiday always has a bromide effect, even upon a normal market.

It's funny the way the street looks upon a holiday. This year Memorial Day falls on Wednesday. Monday there was a "what's-the-use" sort of an atmosphere. Today that will give way to the theory that the day before a holiday is good for nothing except of complete plans for the day's outing. Thursday, of course, will be flat. Thursday they will probably have the excess of a fresh adjustment Friday, being the beginning of the first summer week-end, and preceding a half holiday, cannot be expected to develop much, and, besides, it is the first day of the month. Saturday is only a stop gap between Friday and Sunday, and Sunday is Sunday.

This market is a exaggerated statement, but it is surprising what a number of traders will find therein a familiar summary. However, there was no sign of calm in the retail districts yesterday, and the month will establish the usual new records in bank clearings, building, exports and imports, manufacturing, and on down the list.

While the local situation is amply sustained, there is some evidence in other parts of the country of a lull in trade, with slight reductions in demand here and there for consumable commodities, and a slight falling off in advance orders, but those who take a pessimistic view of the minor recessions have but little to warrant their attitude thus far, inasmuch as the general position of business, and this is the opinion of well-settled eastern economists, continues well up to the average of recent weeks, and is keeping the great bulk of plants busy at a large percentage of capacity.

TRADE ACTIVITIES

Showing the relative fluctuation of merchandising activities as reflected in reports made to the Census Bureau, the Pacific Coast section shows more active purchasing in Oregon and Washington, while California has gone back to the level of a week before last, and registers a slight recession.

In the country at large there is unusually well-sustained purchasing for this season of the year with a drop of only 5.7 for the week. The mountain section leads in percentage, though with a lower figure than in the preceding four weeks, coinciding with the lower price of copper, zinc and lead. The North agricultural section is second, with a higher purchasing percentage than in the preceding four weeks, coinciding with the sustained high price of wheat.

The business week opened without much pep. In the speculative field the public appears to be playing a waiting game. New commitments are waiting on month-end reports, while a midweek holiday always has a bromide effect, even upon a normal market.

MARKET REVIEW

NEW YORK, May 28.—Market hand gave indication of only slight decrease in both gross and net from the high figures of the month of March.

Statistics on the imports and exports for the month of April, which came to hand today, indicated as had been anticipated, another month in which the balance of trade was against the United States. The surplus of imports over exports in April was approximately $41,000,000, bringing the total import surplus of the first four months of the current year to approximately $159,000,000. If any further lesson is to be gained from that taught when the balance of trade first swung against this country, during the month of March, is the fact that there is a very insistent demand in this country for Europe's raw materials, and that these shipments are more likely to increase than to diminish, possibly, because we are now the best customer for the world's surplus goods.

It is much too early to say what effect the continued "unfavorable" trade will have on our stock of gold. Europe and Asia continue to send us goods but gold as well, a condition which, of course, will not be indefinite.

The foreign exchange was featured today by the further decline in the German mark to 16.25 cents for 100 marks, a not illogical sequence to the fact that she has been obliged to borrow her gold reserves from foreign governments. Commodity markets, with exterior forces to propel them, paid strict attention to conditions within their own province, and exhibited strangely contrasting movements.

RAILS ARE POPULAR
(BY A. F. HUTTON WIRE)
NEW YORK, May 28.—Railroad and equipment stocks were bid up sharply in today's active stock market while profit-taking and bear selling were conducted in the steel, oil, motor and other speculative industries.

The strength of the railroads was the result of the unusually substantial advances made by some of the larger systems in the April earnings statements being published. While there was some switching of speculative interest from the industrial to the railroads, heavy investment buying was generally regarded as the principal factor in the rise of the carrier stocks which with a few exceptions, have occupied a secondary position in the market for many weeks.

A comparison of the net income of some of the larger systems last month as against April of last year follows:

Railroad	1922	1923
New York Central	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Illinois Central	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Chicago & North Western	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Rock Island	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
St. Louis	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Missouri Pacific	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Union Pacific	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Great Northern	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Montgomery Ward	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Woolworth	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Macys	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Woolworth	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Macys	$1,000,000	$1,200,000

The outstanding strong spots in the railroad list were the Atlantic Coast Line, the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Northern Pacific and the Texas and Pacific, the net gains ranging from 1 to 3 points.

Some of the short selling of the industrial stocks was based on the theory that a technical reaction, at least, was due after four consecutive days of rising prices. California Petroleum, which was pushed up nearly 20 points last week, fell back 3 1/2. Losses of 1 to 3 points were registered by such recent favorites as Standard Oil, Dupont, American Can, American Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Montgomery Ward, Martin, Paine, Pan-American, A. Corn Products, Crucible, Republic and Republic Steel, Chandler and Cuba Cane Sugar, preferred, Atlantic Gulf touched a new low for the year at 14 1/2.

American Locomotive was pushed up 1/2 point and Baldwin 1/4. Continental Can also was heavily bought on reports of increased earnings, rising a point.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and the increased to 5. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged, the bulk of the business in each being done at 5 per cent.

Establishment of another new low record for German marks at 0.016 1/2 cent, was the feature of the quiet trading in foreign exchange. Demand for sterling and French francs held fairly steady at $4.82 1/2 and 6.62 cents, respectively. Norwegian exchange showed marked improvement, rallying 24 points to 16.45 cents. Argentine paper pesos were extremely weak, being quoted at 35.37 cents, a record low for the year.

Today's total sales 1,250,000 shares.

Twenty Industrials averaged 97.25, net loss 2 1/2. High, 1923, 102.38; low, 92.77.

Twenty railroads averaged 83.16, net gain .58. High, 1923, 90.63; low, 80.13.

SENTIMENT IS MIXED IN COTTON TRADING
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, May 28.—Cotton options were 4 to 5 points higher at close of business today. The market, after a firm start, developed an easier undertone and under scattered realizing sales sagged off from the earlier high levels. Trading was rather quiet, with prices fluctuating in narrow range. Sentiment was mixed. At its best the market was 30 to 40 points higher, but by midday was back to about 8 to 12 points above the previous closing level. Afternoon trading was slow, but prices moved lower as recent bull traders unloaded. A still easier undertone was displayed in the final hour.

Spot cotton was steady 10 points advance, 28.75 for middling upland.

Southern markets: Galveston, 28.40, 10 points advance; New Orleans, 28.25, 25 points advance; Savannah, 28.27, 12 points advance; Augusta, 28.75, 12 points advance; Memphis, 27.75, unchanged; Houston, 28.15, unchanged; Little Rock, 27.25, 25 points advance.

CHAMBER PLANS PUBLICITY DRIVE

Advertising Experts Discuss Important Campaign

Location of New Industries is Chief Object

Committee is Named to Press Great Project

A subcommittee on industrial advertising was appointed yesterday by the manufacturers' committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to handle funds for publicity in connection with the industrial drive launched by the chamber. The committee held a conference with a number of advertising men, seeking their views of the amount of money needed and the proper placing of it. The committee was the result.

N. L. Morse, purchasing agent of the Southern California Gas Company, heads the committee. His associates are Dan Miner of the Dan Miner Company, Don Francisco of Lord & Taylor, James H. Hill of Aherlin Clay Products Company, Walter Grether of Grether & Grether, and G. A. Axelsson of the Axelsson Machine Company.

LARGE FUND DESIRED

A fund of upward of $100,000 will be sought to carry on the work, which fund shall be devoted to display advertising and to furnish transportation and expenses to established industrial engineers of the eastern factory centers, who, representing miscellaneous manufacturing groups, will be asked to come to Los Angeles and make their own survey of conditions and needs in conjunction with the Industrial Department of the Chamber of Commerce.

Vice-President William Lacy of the chamber said that Los Angeles building was mounting toward a certain apex and that it was not only good and necessary business to procure further industries and plants to take care of the excess of population, but a humanitarian duty. He said the city should secure only such industries as would prosper here, and deprecate any attempt to duplicate plants already existing in the city. He strongly urged a fund for not only advertising, but to have personal representatives from the Chamber of Commerce sent throughout the East.

CONDITIONS ANALYZED

James H. Hill spoke along the same lines and gave a further analysis of present conditions and made an argument for a careful and exhaustive survey. President William T. Bishop coincided with Mr. Lacy and particularly stressed any danger of haphazard advertising that might enter the plans. He suggested specialized advertising, telling of the advantages and disadvantages of shoe, or textile, or metal manufacturing in or near Los Angeles, each set of display advertisements handling a specific line.

Recognized as one of the most fertile comedy fields in the world, the music hall has already produced such comedians as Charlie Chaplin, Syd Chaplin, Clyde Cook, Stan Laurel and others, and Roach expects to find some that show signs of prospective genius. Plans have already been discussed with Elmer Pearson, vice-president and general manager of Pathe, who arrived here last week, who enthusiastically urged Roach to let nothing interfere with the trip. It is expected that Roach will be gone two or three months.

The search for new comedy talent will not be confined to the music hall abroad however, as the vaudeville stage in this country will also be thoroughly combed.

It is said that Roach will spend more than $5,000,000 in the present season on his comedy features. All the productions are being made under the supervision of Warren Doane, Harley Walker and Tom Criser, the three employees of Roach who were recently made partners in the business by the producer.

Borzage Picks Miss Philbin to Play in Picture

Arthur H. Jacobs, producer of Frank Borzage Productions, yesterday signed pretty Mary Philbin to play the coveted part opposite William Collier, Jr., in Mr. Borzage's current picture which he just started at the United Studios.

The signing of Miss Philbin puts an end to the long search for a demure young woman to work in the all-star cast, which was completed with the addition of her name. Miss Philbin played a leading part in "Merry Go-Round" for Universal.

Girls answered the call from all over Southern California and many called personally at the studio.

The cast in addition includes Myrtle Stedman, Josef Swickard, Frederick Truesdell, Frankie Lee, J. Farrell MacDonald, Aggie Fling, Baby Bruce Guerin and Mary Jane Irving.

Warner Brothers Present Auto to Star in "Gold Diggers"

The late Theodore Roosevelt was paid $1 a word for the stories on his African hunting trip. Miss Hope Hampton, the star of Warner Brothers' forthcoming production, "The Gold Diggers," was paid $1 a mile for coming from New York City to Los Angeles to make the picture.

Miss Hampton has been presented by Warner Brothers with a new $3000 automobile, in appreciation of her making the long trip across the continent to appear as the star of "The Gold Diggers."

The presentation was made by Jack Warner.

The gift came as a surprise to Miss Hampton, as it was not part of her contract.

RADIO TUNERS EXPLAINED

Analysis Made of Relative Capabilities of Single and Double Circuit Receivers

BY E. E. BUCHER,
Manager Sales Department Radio Corporation of America

Information has been broadcast to the radio trade with regard to relative capabilities of the double-circuit and single-circuit receiver.
The skillful distortion of certain fundamental technical facts, the public, as well as the jobber and dealer, has been informed and in some cases led to believe that the two-circuit tuner enables one to obtain unusual results which cannot possibly be secured with the single-circuit tuner.

The single-circuit tuner will enable the listener to differentiate between two local broadcasting stations by one of two ways, (a) by connecting a .001MF fixed condenser across the antenna and ground binding posts, or (b) by selecting a short antenna fifteen to twenty feet in length and not of too great height. It has been conclusively demonstrated that a low antenna gives greater selectivity than a high antenna.

Selectivity in regenerative sets is primarily dependent on the amount of regeneration. Two local broadcasting stations on different wave lengths will often interfere with one another on either the single or double-circuit receiver, but this is due to the overwhelming power of the transmitter, which causes the apparatus to respond when not accurately tuned to the transmitter. It has been demonstrated beyond all cavil that interference set up by two local stations can be eliminated on the single-circuit receiver by an antenna not exceeding forty feet in length.

STRONGER SIGNALS
The ordinary regenerative set with the double-circuit tuner gives from 20 to 50 per cent less signal than the single circuit with the same number of tubes and the same general circuit. In other words, stronger signals will be obtained in long-distance reception from a single-circuit set than from a double-circuit set.

For those who have interest in long-distance reception as well as local reception, it is sometimes advisable to erect two single-wire aerials, one for long-distance reception—which may be of any length up to 150 feet, and the other for local reception—which may be of any length up to forty feet, depending upon the sensitiveness of the receiving instrument. The small aerial enables one to differentiate between local signals, while the large antenna can be used for long-distance work after the local stations have discontinued.

Many users of broadcasting sets are now installing two antennae—
a long one for long-distance reception after the local stations have closed down, and a small one,
or an indoor aerial, for local reception. The indoor aerial may consist of twenty-five to fifty feet of lamp cord concealed behind the picture molding, or a piece of inconspicuous No. 25 wire stretched

Bird's Legs Serve as Rudder Long-legged birds have short tails. A bird's tail serves as a rudder during the act of flight.
When birds are provided with long legs, these are stretched directly behind when the bird is flying and so act as a rudder.

Union Backs Bond Issue

After Address by Perry

No attempt was made to formally indorse candidates for city offices who appeared yesterday

before the Ministerial Union of its regular meeting in the Philharmonic Auditorium Building, but a number of those who spoke evidently won the preacher vote in the three minutes accorded each of them for speech making.

Everett R. Perry, superintendent of Los Angeles public libraries, speaking in behalf of the proposed bond issue for $500,000

with which to purchase ground adjoining the site for the new public library, obtained an indorsement for the bond issue.

Robert A. Allan and W. C.

Mushet, candidates for re-election to the City Council, and Boyle

Workman and Miles S. Gregory, seeking places in that assembly,

made speeches that were heartily received by the more than 100

ministers present.

Fred C. Wheeler, another member of the City Council seeking re-election, declared himself in favor of all proposed bond issues, while

Charles J. Golden sought passage of the playground bonds, as well as his own election. I. F. Hughes favored the power bond issue in his talk for election to the City Council. Wallace G. Oaks kept

away from worldly affairs, staking his chances with the ministers on a spiritual basis.

School Board candidates outnumbered those running for the City Council. Robert A. Odell, an attorney and already a member of the board, delivering a business-like outline of his ideas of how school affairs should be conducted.

Mrs. Lucia MacBeth, a middle-aged woman of not a few accomplishments, made a forceful appeal for the ministerial vote.

Frederick R. Feisthans, "the only candidate for the School Board

from the east side of the river," attempted something of an "Eddie

Foy" when he told the preachers of his seven children. Their continued applause was their indorsement of him, however, when he said that he sent the entire crowd

off to Sunday-school each Sunday.

John R. Beman and Frank O.

Bristol, Robert L. Burns and M. C.

Bettinger also spoke.

Fifteen minutes of a crowded

session already had been taken up by G. Bromley Oxnam, with an explanation of his activities among radical groups and with denunciation of the Times so that M. Jesse York, Mary C. Millspaugh and

William B. Himrod, school board candidates on the Oxnam ticket, sought the ministers' support by indorsing some of the views expressed by Oxnam, who is a member of the Ministerial Union. His hearers appeared to find some unintended significance in Oxnam's

statement that "I stand for nothing but the Times stands for."

The three-minute rule was not invoked until after Oxnam, "as a

POLITICS

TREND OF POLITICAL ACTION

AND THOUGHT

By the Sentry on His Beat

The power bureau's jazz band was hauled up and down Broadway

yesterday on board one of the city's motor trucks playing—at the taxpayers' expense—"Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean." The truck being placarded—also at the taxpayers' expense—with fervent pleas for everybody, somebody,

anybody, to vote next Tuesday for the trifling $25,000,000 power-bond issue to be spent over in Nevada and Arizona. The traveling vaudeville show lacked the presence of

Dr. John R. Haynes, the motion-picture impresario who produced

the famous $25,000 film, "Boulder

Canyon or Bust"—also paid for by the taxpayers—and also some singers. Had the chatters been on the truck they should have sung

"Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean"

something like this:

Oh, Mr. Taxpayer, Oh, Mr. Taxpayer.

If you are dumb and blind,

You'll give us thirty-five million bucks.

We're so broke and badly bent

And we haven't got a cent

All your other millions that you gave us we have spent.

(Yes, Yes.)

Oh, Dr. Haynes, Oh, Dr. Haynes.

For months you've pulled the power bureau reins.

What did you do with all the dough?

Did you waste it? I thought so!

the pocket.

Great Events in California's History

Founding of San Francisco

THE beginning of San Francisco was a very modest one. It was founded September 1st, 1776, as a mission settlement under the direction of Father Junipero Serra who had always wanted a mission established somewhere in California in honor of the beloved patron saint, Francis.

The mission grounds were 247½ feet square. The historic old structure—Mission Dolores—still exists as one of the monuments of the early civilization of the native California Indians.

San Francisco is the birth-place of the Bank of Italy. In this city at the corner of Market, Powell and Eddy Streets is located the beautiful Head Office building of California's largest financial institution.

ASKS VOTE OF WOMEN ON HARBOR

Mrs. A. J. Lawton Says
Fate of Bond Issue Tuesday is in Their Hands

Women voters of the city hold the future of Los Angeles in their hands when they stamp their ballots next Tuesday. To vote yes for the $15,000,000 harbor bonds means to vote for prosperity and growth for Los Angeles. To vote no on the proposition would mean to cripple the welfare of this city to a terrible degree.

This is the opinion of Mrs. A. J. Lawton, former chairman of the Women's Legislative Council and one of the foremost clubwomen of California. Mrs. Lawton is one of a number of influential women who have volunteered their services as "harbor bond boosters" to the Chamber of Commerce to help put the bonds over next Tuesday.

"The development of the harbor and of industry there to date is simply amazing," Mrs. Lawton said, "and the future holds untold promises if we provide money for maintaining facilities at the harbor. It would simply be economic waste for us to lose first place as port of call for ships that ply between two continents through lack of accommodations for them, but that is precisely what will happen if the harbor bonds are not voted. I hope that every woman in the city will vote for the harbor bonds next Tuesday and will work for them up to that time."

Husband Denies Wife Charges of Being Tired

When a husband comes in from a sleepless vigil in the oil field, tired and worn out, the fact that he is not overly jubilant does not mean he is sullen and morose, declared George Aldahl, treasurer of the International Petroleum Company yesterday, answering charges of Frida Aldahl in a divorce suit.

Judge Summerfield, hearing the case in Superior Court yesterday, ordered Aldahl to pay his wife $125 a month temporary maintenance until the suit is finally decided.

Aldahl charged her husband was sullen and morose and at one time he told her he had married her "for the money."

Aldahl denied he possessed "large sums of money" as stated by his wife. He said he was a salaried officer of the oil company and that often he went into the oil field and worked. He charged that his wife was cold and indifferent when he returned home after working in the field.

The Oldahs were married in North Dakota in January of 1915 and were separated in November, 1922.

OIL RECEIVER NAMED

Appointee to Represent Three Companies in Suit

Judge Keetch in Superior Court yesterday appointed Willard L. Goodwin receiver for the Lambert-Hampton Oil Syndicate No. 2, the L. A. Lambert Oil Syndicate No. 2 and the L. A. Motion Picture Syndicate No. 1, in suits against the Hogan Drilling Company. His bond was fixed at $30,000.

The assets of the companies were stated to be $300,000 and their properties are located at Signal Hill. Each company brought suit to recede contracts for drilling with the Hogan concern. It was said the wells of the three concerns are at each about 300 feet and are soon to be brought in.

What is the nature of the dispute with the drillers was not discussed in the papers filed.

The Woman and Her

"WHO HIDES HIS TIME?"
Patience may be a negative virtue, but it takes a courageous heart to practice it.

Quietly to wait while Clotho spins is no easy task. Yet how often we sigh and say: "If I'd been patient a little longer!"

And how triumphant we are when all the twisted threads are snipped by the relentless shears of Antropos, and that which seemed a hopeless tangle is free and straight once more.

One night last winter a student waited after class to ask my advice. Not that she intended to follow it, of course—we usually seek advice that our own decisions may be crystallized. Perhaps there may have been a lurking doubt, but she'd about made up her mind.

There was a blonde—not a genuine one, for they are the daughters of heaven.

STATES CASE BRIEFLY
My girl stated her case briefly while the lights in the classroom winked dimly and a seclusion janitor flourished a broom; then we adjourned to Washington and Grand avenue, and she gave me the details.

In her office there were five girls under civil service; she was their senior in the work, and unofficial assistant to the chief, whom they liked and respected. Just a happy family, working in harmony and good-fellowship. Soon the chief was to have a deputy at a good salary, and he had promised her the appointment.

When the salary was going to night school for two years to fit himself for the work, and to pass the necessary examinations. Then came the blonde.

She had not taken the civil service examination: She had come in as a substitute. She was not competent to meet the requirements of the service, but that was no part of her plan. Her business equipment was a full complement of feminine wiles. Like another Salome she used every blandishment and the chief had succumbed as another Herod, and she had taken his place.

TWAS EVER THUS
Without waiting for official sanction, he had appointed the girl to the deputyship, and put the office force under her supervision. The girl was told to take their orders from her. And it was orders they got every hour of the day. As a supervisor she was of the most arrogant and domineering sort. The chief's buzzer was used mercilessly, and when the girls answered it in that inner sanctum they were subjected to grueling cross-examinations as to the progress of their work, and ruthless criticism and reprimand followed.

Outside the office tongues were wagging. Somebody's best boy had seen the chief and the blonde dining at a seaside inn, lunching a deuce at some of the best restaurants in the city, and he brought her to the office in his car. And he was married, too!

What should they do? Go to the head of the division? File an official protest and resign in a body? That's what everybody had said. They should do it every body, of course, meant fathers, brothers and sweethearts of the quintet.

THE WISER WAY
And what did I think? If it is not an excellent way, not to be put into words, of course. Things that had to do with tar-

Imperial Chicken Salad: (I assume that there are still a few leftovers from last Sunday's Fricassee Chicken, which my menus called for. If not, use a small can of boned chicken.) Cut the chicken pieces very small and measure. Mix them with twice their bulk of diced celery, one chopped hard-boiled egg, and one large cooked and chopped beet. Moisten the mixture with mayonnaise dressing and serve on crisp lettuce.

Cream Baked Cabbage: Trim one medium-size head of cabbage and boil it in quarters till tender, having the water well salted. Press out all moisture, then put the cabbage through your food chopper. Add to it one tablespoon of butter, two tablespoons of sweet milk, four tablespoons of chopped, crisply cooked bacon, two beaten eggs and salt and pepper to suit individual taste. Mix well and turn into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. (Small pieces of butter, dotting the top, will help to brown it over.) Serve very hot.

Greatest Menace to Nation's Prosperity, Says Finlay

Free Labor Advocate Talks to Master Printers

Association Officer Takes Slap at Power Bonds

"Outsell the unions," was the keynote of an address made by Albert W. Finlay, member of the George H. Ellis Company of Boston and nationally known advocate of the open shop, before members of the Master Printers' Association yesterday noon at the Athletic Club.

The speaker, who acted as chairman of the forty-eight hour League during recent labor troubles in the printing trades, denounced the unions as the greatest menace to prosperity and pointed to the fact that Los Angeles, a non-union city, was today the industrial and financial white spot of the country as a result of the industrial freedom accorded the laborer and artisan here.

His experience in group insurance to the employers and expressed his pleasure when the local Master Printers' Association was preparing to inaugurate the policy of protecting their employees through insurance.

His experience in combating union labor in his home-city was recounted, and he declared that the employer today was faced with two alternatives in the matter of labor.

"The first must either conduct a closed shop or he must conduct a shop closed against any member of a union," he stated.

He said that from personal experience he had come to the conclusion that employers could no longer employ both union and non-union labor and operate with any degree of success. He cited instances where the cost of the employees of so-called open shops walked out when a strike was called by the unions.

Fletcher Ford, president of the Fletcher Ford Company, acted as host and presided at the luncheon. A direct slap at the $25,000,000

BABY MYSTERY IS SOLVED

Long Beach Sensation Dies Quiet Death When Infant's Mother Reveals Facts in Case

The identity of the so-called "mystery baby" of Long Beach has been ascertained, and the "mystery" has been placed on the back shelf of the beach city's one-day sensation morgue.

To be brief, there was no mystery. At least, Mrs. E. L. Smith, 3749 Woodlawn avenue, so states, and, due to the fact she is the mother of the youngster, police of the beach city are satisfied with her statement.

The baby, being but a little more than a week old, could verify the mother's statement with only a few yells, but even they, the vocal outbursts, were considered corroborative evidence by the police.

The continuity of the exploded mystery, in short, is as follows:

RETIRED BABY
Last Saturday Joseph Winkler, 1425 East Letcherway, Long Beach, appeared at the police station in that city and asked official aid in accomplishing the adoption of a very young baby, said to be under the care of Miss E. Kretschman, a nurse, living at 1206 East 12th street, Long Beach.

He stated that he had been informed by neighbors that Miss Kretschman was seeking a home for the child, and with the intention of adopting the youngster had gone to her home.

There he found a very likeable youngster, but much opposition to his proposed adoption of the same. Consequently, he went to the police station for official aid.

The officers went to the home of Miss Kretschman to ascertain her reasons for refusing Mr. Winkler's offer of adoption. She told a story which would make any scenario writer's brain child appear prosaic.

Miss Kretschman told the officers that she had been informed by a friend that a man named Winkler was seeking a home for a baby.

MATINEE AT LOEW'S FOR ARMY DRIVE

Jackie Coogan Thinks Out Plan of Giving Tickets for Old Clothes

Jackie Coogan has thought out a way to help the Salvation Army without expense to anyone and at the same time, he will give an entertaining couple of hours to all who help the army. In conjunction with the Salvation Army drive, Jackie will run an Old Clothes Matinee on "Daddy," his latest released picture, which comes to Loew's State Theater for the week of June 2.

Everyone who brings a bundle of old clothes to Loew's State Theater next Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, will receive in exchange for it a ticket that will admit him to this special old clothes showing of Jackie's latest picture. The entire matinee will be in charge of the Salvation Army and its ladies will be present to receive the bundles of wearing apparel and to hand out the tickets for the show.

To aid this cause, to which Los Angeles has always been friendly, the Jackie Coogan organization is rounding up all the old clothes possible, for the army believes that the influx of newcomers to the Southwest this summer will be of unprecedented number and therefore its activities will be strained to the utmost.

Jackie's parents have promised that he will send to this Old Clothes matinee a trunkful of his own apparel; while every member of the cast of "Daddy" will attend, if possible, and in any event will be represented by a bundle of wearing apparel. A special program, will be presented with the picture to make this Old Clothes matinee an exceptionally attractive entertainment.

The phenomenal increase in the business of the Los Angeles postoffice the present year is indicated in a comparative statement given yesterday by the local postoffice officials.

The total receipts of the Glendale office, that serves a population of many thousands people, last year were $106,000.

The increase of the receipts by the Los Angeles office has been $106,000 each month of the present year over the corresponding months of last year.

In other words, the increase for each month has been more than the total receipts at Glendale for the entire year.

The May figures to be given out Thursday, are expected to overtop anything ever quoted in the local postal service.

There will be a total cessation of all activities at the Los Angeles postoffice tomorrow in honor of Memorial Day, with the single exception that the parcel-post window will be open from 10 to 6 o'clock. There will be no deliveries or collections and the day will be given over to a genuine holiday.

NEILAN COMPANY IS BACK FROM LOCATION

NOTED ARMY MEN OF FORT MASON PROMINENT IN "THE RENDEZVOUS"

Marshall Neilan and company arrived home yesterday from San Francisco, where they took scenes for Neilan's latest photoplay, "The Rendezvous," a story of Russia.

Four hundred soldiers of the Thirtieth Infantry and Heavy Artillery, obtained through Gen. Morton, in command of the Presidio, will be seen in the picture.

Fort Mason was the setting of the location scenes. Doughboys from the Presidio and Fort Winfield Scott, loaded with the regular eighty-five-pound overcoat packs, worked under the direction of Neilan for twenty hours. The transports Thomas and Cambrai were pictured in the embarking and disembarking scenes.

COPELAND LOSES POINT

Writ of Prohibition Denied in Delayed Perjury Case

J. L. Copeland, who has successfully evaded trial upon a charge of perjury for almost two years, had his application for a writ of prohibition denied yesterday in an opinion handed down by Division No. 2 of the Second District Court of Appeal.

Copeland was indicted for perjury in August, 1921, by the Los Angeles grand jury. He entered a demurrer to trial upon the ground that sufficient facts to prove guilt were lacking in the case and was discharged only to be re-indicted by the same grand jury, upon facts admittedly the same as those upon which the first charge was based. In Judge Sidney N. Reeve's department of Superior Court attorneys for Copeland moved to have the second indictment set aside upon the ground of non-prosecution and the petition was denied by the court.

Copeland then entered a plea of not guilty to the perjury charge and halted court proceedings for the time being by securing issuance of an alternative writ of prohibition.

OLD SCHOOLMATE IS BLAMED BY HUSBAND

Her asserted infatuation for an old schoolmate was Theodore J. Coht's chief argument in asking a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Margaret L. Coht, in Judge Walton J. Wood's court yesterday. The decree was granted.

Mr. Coht introduced letters in evidence to indicate the asserted infatuation. He also charged cruelty.

The judge gave the children into the custody of their mother.

FOX FARM PLANNED

Robert T. Moore, proprietor of the Borestone Mountain fox ranch of Oxnard, Md., has leased from the government twenty acres of land lying south of Big Bear Lake for the propagation of silver foxes.

This fox farm is the third to be established in the Angeles Forest, the other two being located in Canon Pass and on Mt. Lowe, but in the case of the latter, the damper atmosphere causes a number of ailments in the fox and that the dry, equable temperature of Southern California is most conducive to the successful breeding and raising of these animals.

TIGER GIRL VICTIM'S STEPPFATHER GUILTY

Fred Tremaine, stepfather of Alberta Meadows, who was slain by Clara Phillips, yesterday was ordered returned to jail by Judge McCormick to await hearing June 21 on his plea for probation on a charge of grand larceny. Tremaine changed his plea from not guilty to guilty yesterday. He is charged with stealing an automobile, $570 in cash, and $24 worth of candy from the store of John L. Friedman.

RELEASE OF NEWS TO BE SANCTIONED

District Attorney's Aide Warns Employees From Disclosing Activities

Hereafter no news will emanate from the District Attorney's office unless Chief Deputy District Attorney Keyes says so, according to an order issued yesterday by him.

In his order Mr. Keyes stated that anyone giving out information to newspaper men will be subject to dismissal unless he has first given his official consent that such information be published. The order follows:

To all employees of the District Attorney's office: There has been a rule in this office for some time prohibiting giving out items of news to the newspapers without first discussing the matter with the head of the department.

Hereafter anyone who violates this rule and discloses to newspaper men or others details or generalities of work upon which he or she is engaged, without first consulting the head of the department, will be subject to dismissal from further service. This applies particularly to members of the investigative department and those investigating violations of the Wright Act.

ARA KEYES, Chief Deputy.

More Money Required Now in Election

A request for an additional $45,000 to meet the expenses incurred by the city in the recent municipal primaries and in the forthcoming election was submitted by City Clerk Dominguez yesterday in his annual election report.

Because of the great increase in the number of precincts and election boards, the report points out the election fund has proven insufficient and an additional allowance of $45,000 will be necessary to cover the cost of the election on June 5.

The report covers the period from July 1, 1922, up to the present and estimates the probable expenditure for conducting the city election on June 19. During this period two consolidation elections have been conducted, four elections on municipal improvements, thirteen consolidation elections and various elections on referendum and initiative petitions. The total cost up to June 19 of these elections is estimated, will be $129,579.90.

Mr. Dominguez placed the cost of the primary election at $93,474.62, of which $45,000 is to be borne by the county.

SCHOOL ROMANCE ENDS

Divorce Court Scene of Final Chapter in Courtship

A romance of school days was ended by Judge Hardy in Superior Court yesterday, when he granted a divorce to Mrs. Neva Turner Hannah from Frank S. Hannah.

Mrs. Hannah said she met her husband while both of them were going to school. He had no money, she declared, so she bought her own wedding ring and paid the minister. She said her youthful husband told her that he would be to support her after he left school, so they lived alternately with her parents and his. But when his school days were over, she said, he neglected to furnish the wherewithal for their household expenses.

WANT RAIL LITIGATION ADVANCED
Carriers Ask Commission for an Early Hearing in Terminal Case
The Railroad Commission of California yesterday forwarded to Washington a joint motion of the commission, the Southern Pacific Company, the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company for the advancement of the United States Supreme Court of the Los Angeles union terminal and grade-crossing elimination case on the October calendar of the court.
An early hearing of this case is requested by all parties and interest because of the importance of the issues involved and the fact that there are a number of cases of great importance involving the same principle in other States.
Coincident with the announcement by the Railroad Commission of the filing of this motion, Hugh Gordon, chief counsel for the commission, announced that John E. Benton, general solicitor of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, had been authorized by that body to appear in the case before the Supreme Court at Washington and to urge the upholding of the jurisdiction of the States in matters of this kind.
The carriers interested are anxious to have a speedy determination of this case, as is also the Railroad Commission, because of the developments in their Los Angeles properties are held in abeyance pending the outcome of this litigation.

FOX FARM PLANNED
Maine Man Leases Tract of Land in Big Bear Lake District
Robert T. Moore, proprietor of the Borestone Mountain fox ranch of Oxnard, Md., has leased from the government twenty acres of land lying south of Big Bear Lake for the propagation of silver foxes.
This fox farm is the third to be established in the Angeles Forest, the other two being located in Canon Pass and on Mt. Lowe, but in the case of the latter, the damper atmosphere causes a number of ailments in the fox and that the dry, equable temperature of Southern California is most conducive to the successful breeding and raising of these animals.

TIGER GIRL VICTIM'S STEPPFATHER GUILTY
Fred Tremaine, stepfather of Alberta Meadows, who was slain by Clara Phillips, yesterday was ordered returned to jail by Judge McCormick to await hearing June 21 on his plea for probation on a charge of grand larceny. Tremaine changed his plea from not guilty to guilty yesterday. He is charged with stealing an automobile, $570 in cash, and $24 worth of candy from the store of John L. Friedman.

THE GUMPS—PAPER MONEY

IT'S ABOUT TIME THAT PAPER CAME—IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE TWO HOURS AGO—THAT PAPER BOY MOVES JUST AS FAST AS A PNEUMATIC SNAIL—HIS IDEA OF SPEED IS WATCHING A CARPENTER'S HORSE RACE A TAILOR'S GOOSE.

WELL, THERE'S SOMETHING IN THE PAPER THIS MORNING—500 HEART-WARMERS—ALL THE FINANCIAL NEWS IS ON THE FRONT PAGE.

IF THE FELLOW WHO OWNS THIS PAPER IS GIVING AWAY $500 TO EACH SUBSCRIBER HE'LL SOON HAVE A LARGER CIRCULATION THAN AN ELEPHANT.

AND SOME ONE IS GIVING ME $500 EVERY DAY FOR A JOKE—IF THEY ARE THEY CERTAINLY HAVE A KEEN SENSE OF HUMOR—SINCE THEY STARTED PRINTING PICTURES AND PHOTOGRAPHS ON BANK NOTES I'M BECOMING AN ART COLLECTOR.

LARGE CARGO IN MOTORSHIP

Holland-American Freighter Anchors in Harbor

Has 4000 Bunches Bananas for Local Market

Vessel One of Six of Her Type Used by Coast Line

Carrying what is said to be the largest consignment of bananas ever to be discharged at the Los Angeles Harbor, as a part of a cargo of 2800 tons of European and Central American freight for local discharge, the fourth and latest motorship of the joint Holland-American and Royal Mail Lines Pacific-European service, the Dredhtyk, arrived yesterday morning on her maiden voyage.

The Dredhtyk is carrying 4000 bunches of bananas from Central America. It was reported that the fruit was in the best of condition and is to be placed on the local market today. The new motorship has a thoroughly modern and complete refrigeration plant for handling fruit cargoes.

Six large motorships, equipped with the latest in internal combustion engines for furnishing power, are scheduled for the joint Holland-American and Royal Mail Lines service. The Dredhtyk is the fourth motorship to call at Los Angeles Harbor. The others were the Lochloch, the Lochloch and the Lochloch.

The Dredhtyk is a Dutch registry and is a Holland-American Line vessel. Capt. Dekker is in command of the motorship. He was formerly in command of the Dredhtyk, which was withdrawn from service about two months ago. The Dredhtyk was taken out of the Pacific coast service owing to lack of speed and refrigeration facilities. With the advent of the new motorships, the sailing of four motorships and the steamers Cardigan and Moordyk.

The Cardigan and the Moordyk are the only vessels of the old fleet remaining, being the two oldest steamers.

Los Angeles Harbor Center of Vast Trade

May Report Expected to Show Enormous Gain

Nearly 200 Tankers Will be Month's Total

Los Angeles Harbor today is the center of the greatest single shipping activity in the history of the American Merchant Marine—the movement of California petroleum to every corner of the world. More than two-thirds of the entire intercoastal traffic passing through the Panama Canal during April was from or bound for Los Angeles Harbor alone, according to official canal reports.

The week just closed offers a striking example of the immense fuel oil trade enjoyed by the local port. During the seven days ending last Saturday thirty-nine tank steamers of all flags loaded and sailed from Los Angeles Harbor with cargoes totaling 3,600,000 barrels of oil.

Heavy tanker traffic of the present week also indicates that local oil exports for May will set a new world record. 130 tankers with an aggregate cargo of 15,000,000 barrels being the expected figures.

Tanker movements from the port during the past four months show the steady increase in this class of commerce. In January, last, 106 tankers departed with cargoes; in February, 108; March, 130; while in April 161 tankers with cargoes of 13,000,000 barrels sailed.

Out of the 148 tank steamers passing through the Panama Canal in April in intercoastal trade, 137 were American ships, that also being the number destined for or sailing from Los Angeles Harbor. The figures are in sharp contrast to those of April, 1932, when only one American tank steamer in intercoastal trade passed through the Panama waterway.

The big development of the week in the oil traffic situation at this port was the announcement that the Pure Oil Company of New York had purchased 1,000,000 barrels of California crude for immediate shipment through the canal to its refinery at the East Coast. The entire contract will be carried to the Atlantic Coast in the company's own tankers. The first of these, the W. W. Miller, is ready to sail for Philadelphia with 100,000 barrels of oil.

Planning Board Head Cites Importance of Obtaining Beaches for Public

Emphasizing the economic necessity of the proposed playground bond issue, G. Gordon Whitnall, chairman of the City Planning Commission, in a letter to the playground commission today called attention to the importance of reclaiming for the public the ocean frontage.

In part Whitnall stated: "As one interested in the planning and development of Los Angeles, allow me to offer a word of commendation of your department's efforts to meet the community's needs for recreational facilities.

"The lamentable and tremendously costly experiences of other cities which did not anticipate their recreational needs convince me that in your proposed bond issue for playground purposes, you are really offering Los Angeles the means of effecting a very great economy, both financially and socially.

"I am particularly interested in your proposal to reclaim for the public the ocean frontage. The beaches, which constitute one of our most important recreational needs, are so limited as to place them at a great premium. The fact that they can never be increased even in the slightest degree, makes it all the more important that what remains shall be acquired now for public use while that is possible. If these beaches are lost to us by private interests or destroyed through commercial greed, the possibility of reclaiming them for public use will probably be beyond the financial needs of the community."

Campaign Goal

Confidence in the success of the campaign to raise $270,000 for the 1932 budget of the Salvation Army was expressed last night by Brig. C. R. Boyd, divisional commander of the organization for Southern California, as a result of the extension of a week to complete the drive, which was scheduled to end last Saturday night.

It was stated by Brig. Boyd that every effort will be made this week to complete the canvass for funds in the industrial plants of Los Angeles by a committee of prominent business and professional men assigned last week for this work by the advisory board of the organization.

With the co-operation of many women volunteers activities will be continued this week by leaders of the various groups, who have been canvassing the business district since the campaign started. These women are working under the direction of Mrs. Roy Jones, chairman of the women's advisory council, with headquarters in the Bank of Italy Building.

Chief of Police, Oaks and the Los Angeles Police and Firemen's Band will leave tomorrow morning for Buffalo, N. Y., with stopovers in twenty-six States, with stopovers in twenty-six States, with stopovers in twenty-six States.

Buffalo, N. Y., will be the objective of Chief Oaks and his musicians, who will arrive there on June 12 for a visit of four days to the national convention of police chiefs. En route and on the return trip concerts will be given and the band, with Chief Oaks, will be honored at banquets and receptions.

NO CAUSE FOR CRITICISM
The tour has been so arranged by Chief Oaks that critics will find no cause to condemn the administration for allowing such a large delegation of policemen to take a month's absence from their duties at a time when additional men are being sought by the department.

"Though the organization is known as the Los Angeles Police Band," said Chief Oaks, "a large number of the musicians are members of the fire department. Police uniforms for these men have been provided from a fund created by our citizens.

"Members of the band are not being taken from their regular police duties. All of them have so arranged their vacations with their accumulated days off and days off awarded them for meritorious duties added to their regular duties.

Asserts Woman Won Him
by Promises of Money in His Climb to Fame

William Lineaweaver, when he was 18 years of age, was ambitious to become a noted musician. His funds prevented study abroad with the masters and his talent was suffering from lack of development.

Then into his life came a woman, he avers, several years his elder, yet with a heart of pure gold. She saw the latent spark of genius in the youth and professed her wealth, her heart and her supervision of his upward climb to fame, he said. She offered to send him abroad to study, William asserted. If they were married.

This combination of wealth and understanding, or love, was too much for the 18-year-old youth with musical ambitions, he avers. They were married, he said, two years ago.

Yesterday William's story of unrealistic ambition and misplaced visions of study in Europe, was poured into the ear of Judge Hardy in Superior Court. William's suit for annulment of marriage with Ella L. Lineaweaver on the ground that he was not fully aware of "what it was all about" when he married, was being heard.

Mrs. Lineaweaver denied she courted the ambitious musician. She bore characterizing his assertion that she promised him study in Europe as an untruth.

"Why, the idea," she cried, "he won me by a violent courtship. He told me he was 25 years of age. He literally begged me to marry him."

Judge Hardy denied William's allegation.

In part Whitnall stated: "As one interested in the planning and development of Los Angeles, allow me to offer a word of commendation of your department's efforts to meet the community's needs for recreational facilities.

FRESNO, May 28.—Abolition of the $100 per head system for employing police operatives, also called stool pigeons, in Fresno is in prospect as the result of an announcement by Commissioner of Finance Dillon that he will recommend elimination of the proposed $10,000 stool pigeon appropriation from the 1935-1936 budget.

The tentative draft of this budget is to be considered by the City Commission at a special meeting Thursday.

Dillon said the $10,000 appropriation, now contained in the general fund, to the police department fund for the employment of regularly constituted officers, stool pigeons are used principally in liquor cases at present. Regular officers who might be added to the force by placing the extra $10,000 in the police fund might be used, said Dillon, either to catch bootleggers or for any other purpose, at the discretion of the department heads.

The Finance Commissioner added that he would not oppose use of the $10,000 to employ private detectives in liquor or other cases. If this view of the matter is taken, the $10,000 to employ private detectives, it will mean discontinuance of the practice of employing unlicensed and nonbonded persons to procure evidence.

Long and Bitter Feud is Brought to Climax

MEXICALI, May 28.—After holding the office of Mayor of Mexicali for five months, Juan Loera has been ousted by a vote of his fellow-Councilmen. The action was taken at the most serene session of the Council for several weeks, and during the absence of Loera's supporters. It was asserted that the latter had been intimidated by rumors of probable violence and refused to attend the meeting.

At the same session of the Council, J. Angeles, Councilman removed from office by order of Mayor Loera several weeks ago, was reinstated and took his official seat. At the time of his removal it was officially announced that Angeles had been elected under an assumed name.

Mayor Loera was elected by the Council to be municipal President or Mayor to succeed Otto Moller, last December.

SESSIONS STORMY
The Mayor has had considerable opposition ever since taking office, and lately stormy sessions of the Council have been common. A few weeks ago a revolver was discharged at one of the Council meetings. It could not be ascertained who shot.

Rafael Rosas was named acting Mayor in place of Loera. Friends of the ousted official are said to be planning to replace him in office at the next meeting. Reports that there was likely to be trouble led police authorities to station a score or more officers in the Council chamber, and in the crowd of several hundred citizens in the street.

The public was excluded from the Council meeting in order to prevent disturbances.

"POPULAR DEMAND" PLEA
Following the ousting of Mayor Loera, who hastily signed all official papers requiring his attention and then retired, it was announced that his removal from office was done to satisfy "popular demand." Congressman Ricardo Covarrubias, who has taken much interest lately in the political affairs of Mexicali, today at the Council meeting in order to prevent disturbances.

Mrs. Lineaweaver denied she courted the ambitious musician. She bore characterizing his assertion that she promised him study in Europe as an untruth.

With the co-operation of many women volunteers activities will be continued this week by leaders of the various groups, who have been canvassing the business district since the campaign started. These women are working under the direction of Mrs. Roy Jones, chairman of the women's advisory council, with headquarters in the Bank of Italy Building.

Confidence in the success of the campaign to raise $270,000 for the 1932 budget of the Salvation Army was expressed last night by Brig. C. R. Boyd, divisional commander of the organization for Southern California, as a result of the extension of a week to complete the drive, which was scheduled to end last Saturday night.

It was stated by Brig. Boyd that every effort will be made this week to complete the canvass for funds in the industrial plants of Los Angeles by a committee of prominent business and professional men assigned last week for this work by the advisory board of the organization.

SPEAKS ON SCHOOLS

Assistant State Superintendent at Kern Meeting

BAKERSFIELD, May 28.—Sam Cohn, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressed a meeting of trustees from districts in Kern county in session in Bakersfield Saturday. Cohn discussed the purpose and value of supervision of special subjects and explained the reapportionment of State school funds.

The trustees of whom 200 were present, discussed at length the advisability of extending the school year to ten months in Kern county. The plan was favored but owing to shortage of funds in some districts will not be universal. It was brought out that a number of districts are keeping school from ten to fifteen days in excess of the 180 days required.
